1. Explain why the distribution of charge might be critical to the shape and function of the receptor.

2. Use the Genetic Code above to design a sequence of a protein that would bind well to the receptor shown on the left.

3. Explain why you use DNA genetic code to design a protein. (Use other side if necessary)